Nature & Wildlife - Itineraries

Australia's South West has 1,147 kilometres of coastline that ranges from white sandy beaches to rugged sea cliffs.

Experience its diversity by travelling the entire length or design a trip to suit yourself. Whales can be spotted along the coastline from June through to early December. Or venture inland and enjoy the tranquillity of nature on a tour through the forests of Australia's South West.

5 Days of Forests and Flowers

Perth - Bridgetown - Pemberton - Northcliffe - Walpole - Albany - Perth.

• Travel inland from Perth through the rolling hills of Harvey and on to the Collie River Valley's jarrah forests. The area comes alive with wildflowers in spring and there are a number of bush walks you can enjoy.

- Continue south to the Blackwood River Valley and travel from Balingup to Nannup along the scenic Blackwood River.
- Stay in Nannup or travel on to Bridgetown for the night.
- In the morning, set off for the karri forests around Manjimup and Pemberton. A trip over the Yeagerup Dunes is not to be missed. View world-class outdoor sculptures at the forest art trail in Northcliffe. Spend the next day exploring the Valley of the Giants near Walpole where karri trees grow right to the water's edge.
- Walk above the tree tops and explore the Ancient Empire walk. Stay in Walpole before slowly travelling through to Albany taking in the sights and scenery of the Torndirrup National Park.
- Overnight in Albany and wind your way back to Perth through the Stirling Range which also offers some fantastic walks and an abundance of flora and fauna.

Road Safety Tips - Vehicles are not the only road users in the South West. Try to avoid travel at the high risk time of dawn and dusk. If you see an animal on the road in front of you brake firmly in a straight line and sound your horn. Do not swerve as it is safer to stay on the road.
